Attachments: No

1. Issue:

The SACOG board has invested in a number of new innovative mobility programs and pilot projects such as the first year of Civic Lab and the regional Transportation Demand Management program that have helped test new and creative ideas and attracted private sector partners.

2. Recommendation:

None, this is the monthly board workshop for information and discussion.

3. Background/Analysis: The board workshop will feature Randy Iwasaki, Executive Director of the Contra Costa Transportation Authority, who will speak on the future of mobility and how cities, counties, and regions all play a role in developing advanced, innovative and equitable transportation solutions. The workshop will also include a staff presentation on a few of the new mobility projects on the ground in the Sacramento region and in the pipeline. The board will discuss considerations for future direction and programs at SACOG.

4. Discussion/Analysis:

None.

5. Fiscal Impact/Grant Information:

This work is included within the current Overall Work Program.

6. This staff report aligns with the following SACOG Work Plan Goals:

5 - Establish the Sacramento Region as an Innovator & Test-Bed for New Ideas
